

International Symposium - Call for Papers

Avicenna Reloaded

Analyzing a Muslim polymath from a present view

May 11-13, 2017 · Osnabrück · Germany

The Institute of Islamic Theology (IIT) at Osnabrück University and the Avicenna-Studienwerk welcome further paper submissions to supplement the invited speakers.

Join us at Avicenna Reloaded, an international symposium focussing on the great Muslim polymath Avicenna / Ibn Sina. The conference hosted by the Institute of Islamic Theology (IIT) of Osnabrück University and the Avicenna-Studienwerk brings together academics and experts from a variety of countries, offering a platform for the exchange of ideas, presentation and discussion of the state of the art of research as well as the development of new research approaches within diverse fields of Avicenna-related research. Conference tracks include Avicenna-related research from the fields of philosophy, theology, medicine, psychology, astronomy and natural science.

Practicalities

Authors are kindly asked to submit an abstract summary in English no later than 15 January 2017 to Esnaf Begić: ebegic@uni-osnabrueck.de.

The symposium will be held in the main building of the Schloss (former prince-bishop's castle). Travel and accommodation costs for successful applicants will be covered by the organisers.

Submission Deadline: Jan 15, 2017

Notifications Sent: Feb 15, 2017

Final Papers Due: April 15, 2017

GEFÖRDERT DURCH:

STIFTUNG
MERCATOR

www.iit.uni-osnabrueck.de